A Little Story of Confederate Gallantry; and Unassuming Heroes of the Lost Cause Who Dwell Among Us.

The following article is taken from the "Confederate Veteran," a magazine of many of our readers. It tells the later part of the war between the States, as the verge of collapse, when Sherman was closing in on the way through our homes, and the men were driven out of Tennessee and when Gen. N. B. Forrest, with about 3,000 men, was forced to West Point, Miss., a feat which had occurred which was the mettle of his men. Ben Brown, L. J. Ky. (now dead), and J. Milner, of Co. I, 12th Kentucky, a leading physician of the army (Texas), having failed to get horses at their homes in Kentucky, as ordered to do by the army, came back into Mississippi and turned some farmers to good horses for their own use. This would be a straight and no crime in any war, simply a war necessity. Our boys in Mississippi in defending themselves against Federal invasion Ben and Tom were followed, and put into the guard house of some of Forrest's Mississippi Cavalry, and charged with stealing.

This prison was very close to Forrest's headquarters, was surrounded by many regiments of soldiers, companies of scouts, field artillery, etc., and guarded by thirty soldiers, who kept about 20 prisoners in an upper room, with a stairway on the outside. Four guards stood at the foot of these steps, two at the top, and 24 were in reserve in the lower story, with double doors open at stairway. Our Kentucky troops (Buford's Brigade) were camped some nine miles northeast, and pickets guarded every road.

Our imprisoned comrades wrote to us and told us the whole story. We, through our officers, who freely sympathized with them, tried hard to get them released, but utterly failed. Ben and Tom were good, true soldiers, therefore 14 veterans—namely, Add Brown, John Bushart, Bob Bushart, Rufus Johnson (all dead), Bill Murphy, Sam Stone, Geo. Strahler, John Smith, James H. Saunders, Don Singletary, Jap Nall, Mike Ward and W. P. Butler—hastily volunteered to the release of our comrades at any hazard.

After a hasty caucus, John Bushart and Don Singletary were sent to the prison to see the situation, warn our comrades of our intentions, and make every arrangement for our move that night at 11 o'clock. After going into the prison and talking with Ben and Tom, comrades Bushart and Singletary took in the lay of troops, Forrest's quarters, batteries, etc., and then went back towards camp some five miles and met their comrades. This squad of fourteen reached West Point in due time and rode in between a fence and a small clump of hazel bushes within fifty yards of the prison, and Forrest's headquarters. Add Brown and John Smith held all horses, John Bushart and Jap Nall took charge of a small cabin of jolly folks who seemed to be dancing, and the rest of the men went quietly in the darkness of the night to the prison, surprising and capturing the guards on post. Each one of the rescuers was armed with two revolvers and ready for war if war must come. We knew our business. But little was said. It took us perhaps three minutes. The reserve guards were aroused, surprised and confused, but they caught up their guns and we had a hand to hand encounter, and barely escaped war to the finish. One shot or casually would have meant death and destruction for many.

One of our men ordered them to be quiet and no harm would occur, and they obeyed. In the meantime James H. Saunders, of Hickman, Ky., and Bill Murphy, of Bardwell, Ky., had secured Ben and Tom, and had warned the guards that we were taking one of their men along, and would kill him if they made an alarm, (but had not taken either of their men.) They were afraid to alarm until they called their roll and found no one missing. So our tactics, worked to perfection. Every one was at his best and acted well. A little later Capt. Morris assisted in getting these released and exonerated. Ben Brown (now dead) and T. J. Milner (now a leading physician at Greenville, Tex.) were hid out near our camp and cared for. General Forrest soon moved for a raid and the war ended. We were on the scout when the war closed, and made our way home without and the penalty was death.

The next morning Gen. H. B. Lyon had Companies L, 3d Kentucky, and I, 12th Kentucky, arrested and put in the very prison we raided the night before; and the day following Generals Forrest, Lyon and Jackson sat as a court of inquiry to find out the leaders or men who were guilty; but we were up to our business, and played a little tactics. We held a council and agreed that in this court we were not to know or tell anything on each other. We were to know nothing about our comrades, to forget it all, but to tell whatever we wanted to about ourselves except the truth of our trips. This worked well; we outgeneraled the generals, and all released except Bob and John Bushart and John Beard. Yet the generals got no proof against them. A little later Capt. Morris assisted in getting these released and exonerated. Ben Brown (now dead) and T. J. Milner (now a leading physician at Greenville, Tex.) were hid out near our camp and cared for. General Forrest soon moved for a raid and the war ended. We were on the scout when the war closed, and made our way home without

There is more malaria in this section of the country than at either disease put together and until the last few years was the most malarious country in the world. Twenty years ago physicians pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local remedies, the disease was pronounced to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. The only cure is a blood purifier manufactured by F. J. Cienfuegos & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is a blood purifier, it does not get into the blood in a temporary, it acts directly on the blood and success surfaces of the system. INDIANS IN SENATE CLASH.

Oklahoma Says Five Civilized
Tribes Are Citizens

Washington. One of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in the senate was enacted today when Senator (Robert) L. Owen of Oklahoma, insisted in tragic tones and with loud shouting much emotion that the five civilized tribes of Indians were dead and that he, as a member of the tribe of Cherokee Indians, was not under the control of the majority of the interior. The effect was rendered all the more interesting by the fact that Mr. Owen was sharply engaged in controversy by Senator Harris of Kansas, himself a K. Indian.

It was the first time that two men with Indian blood in their veins had ever locked horns as senators in the senate chamber.

The controversy arose in connection with the consideration of the Indian bill, and was precipitated by an effort on the part of Mr. Owen to have that bill amended as to recognize the citizenship of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians by putting the word "late" before this designation and calling them "the late Five Civilized Tribes."

New York. The efforts of the suffragettes to win converts to their cause ended in a riot in Wall street today. Thousands of persons attracted by the sight of the women gathered on Broad street where the women attempted to address the multitude from a carriage. From every window of the surrounding buildings builders shivered the ballot seekers with their water tape, paper bags filled with water, scrap baskets and tin cans.

The police were called out and it was with great difficulty that the street was cleared.

House Committee Votes to Make Restitution to China

Washington. The house committee on foreign affairs today voted to report favorably the Kuox restoration, making restitution to China to the extent of $13,000,000, which represents in part the indemnity that government paid to the United States as a result of the Boxer uprising. The senate foreign affairs committee has already taken favorable action.

A number of cotton firms in the South made claims for damages and several of these claims have been paid. The president and secretary (Hunt) said to have agreed to return the money to China for the reason that after all the claims for damages and losses entailed by the Boxer movement had been settled the sum of $13,000,000 remained.

Lent Began Wednesday

Lent began Wednesday, and is being observed by many religious denominations throughout the country.

Many people are not familiar with the origin of Lent, nor its purpose, but rather have a confused idea bordering on some unknown religious ceremony with Easter Sunday thrown in.

By the word Lent is understood the fast of forty days preceding Easter; kept (after example of Moses, Elias and Christ himself) in order to prepare the faithful for the great festival of Easter. The Greek and Latin names for the fast, "Tessarakoste" and "Quadragesima," indicate the number of days. The Italian "Quaresima" and the French "Careme" come from the Latin. The German "Fastenzeit" and the Dutch "Vasten" denote the fast; while our own word "Lent" from Anglo-Saxon "Lencen," means spring; i. e., spring fast.

While the scripture makes no mention of Lent, Tertullian and Irenaeus of the second century, furnish proofs that Lent, in the general sense of a fast preceding Easter, has been known almost from Apostolic times. From the early part of the fourth century onward, however, there are many references to Lent as a period of about forty days. Still, in this century and the next also, the duration of Lent varied considerably in different churches.

Sosmen, a writer of the fifth century, says that all Africa, Egypt, Palestine, and the Westerns generally, kept lent for six weeks; the church of Constantinople and the neighboring provinces for seven. The practice for the Roman church and of most Latins, however, was to last six weeks, exclusive of Sunday, making thirty-six days.

At last the Latin church added the four days before the first Sunday in Lent to the fast, thus bringing it into conformity with the forty-days fast of Moses, Elias and Christ. This new discipline is recognized by the council of Meaux, A. D. 846.

Lent was a season in which the faithful begged God's mercy for themselves, and were therefore expected to show mercy to others. The imperial laws forbade criminal processes; the church reconciled penitents; the empress released prisoners; masters pardoned their slaves; and enemies became friends. It was a season of mourning; hence the church has always strongly disapproved of festive activities of all kinds during Lent.

In our times Lent begins with Ash Wednesday (March 4th this year) which derives its name from the ceremony of administering ashes to the faithful, in token of some penance. The ashes are obtained from burning the palms of the previous palm Sunday. At first they were administered only to "public penitents," who were brought before the bishop, and then excluded from the church, as Adam was banished from the Paradise, with this admonition: "Do penance, that thou mayest have eternal life." Gradually the rite was extended to all the faithful, and today in every Catholic church in the world where there is a priest to perform the ceremony, all the faithful, including men, women and children are sprinkled with ashes accompanied with the solemn warning: "Remember, man, that thou art dust, and unto dust thou shalt return."

Mrs. D. C. Wainscott Dead.

Mrs. D. C. Wainscott, of this city, died at her home of tuberculosis, Saturday, Feb. 29.

Mrs. Wainscott was born in Jackson county, Tenn., Dec. 23, 1841, but had been a resident of this county for more than twenty years. She became a member of the Methodist church at the age of 16 years and led a faithful Christian life until the end came.

Deceased leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss. The children are Mrs. Joe McComb and Ritchie Wainscott. The family has resided in this city about two years.

Bradley Elected to U. S. Senate.

The deadlock in the senatorial contest has at last been broken. William O'Connell Bradley, of Louisville, was elected United States Senator, Friday, to succeed James B. McCreary, receiving 64 votes on joint ballot, barely enough to elect, as 127 members were present and voting. His election was made possible by four Democrats, Senators Charlton and McVitt, of Louisville, Representative Mueller, of Louisville, and Representative Lillard, of Boyle county, who voted for him. The Beckham supporters walked into a trap which had been laid for them. The voting at joint session proceeded as usual until after enough Democrats had voted to make the breaking of a quorum impossible, when Senator Charlton changed his vote to Bradley. Senator McNutt and Representative Mueller and Lillard also voted for Bradley the caucus nominee. Pandemonium broke loose when it became apparent that Bradley had received a majority, and a recapitulation was demanded by the Democrats, who surrounded the four members who had voted for Bradley and pleaded with them to change. Offers to withdraw Beckham's name and to call a Democratic caucus were made, but the proposal to compromise came too late, and the four refused to change their votes.

On recapitulation a general break-up of the Beckham forces took place, and at the final count he had but 13 votes, the same number that was given to O'Connell James. Each Democrat voted for his personal choice, while the Bradley ranks stood firm and the Speaker finally announced the result. Mr. Bradley was elected to the stand and made a speech of thanks, pledging his best efforts in the United States Senate for the good of the whole people of Kentucky. An effort was made to make a speech, but he had left the State House.

It is to be regretted that Kentucky must turn over the reins to the G. O. P., but many of the leading Democrats are of the opinion that it will be to the party's interest after all, since the issue is party party rather than party prestige. Defeating Beckham broke the ring at Frankfort, and will again give Democracy a voice in its own primaries. We have never believed Beckham was the bona fide nominee, nor were we alone in this conclusion. The Courier is thoroughly Democratic, but our enthusiasm is not so great that we will kneel at the party shrine when it is filled with political rotteness and corruption. No man's loyalty to any party or creed should lower above his own ideas of justice and the welfare of the common people.

Out of the ashes of defeat of the present state administration we believe a new Democracy will rise which will be worth the price we have paid—a party that will show to the world that Kentucky is still Democratic and a brand of Democracy for which her people need not blush.

Sprague Passes Hickman.

The mammoth tow boat, Sprague, passed Hickman Monday morning enroute to New Orleans. The acres of boats that the Sprague was showing down the river consisted of 46 coal boats containing 26,000 bushels each, 4 fuel boats of 16,000 bushels each, 1 barge of 16,000 bushels, 1 flat of 8,000 bushels and four shell boats of 16,000 bushels each. That is a total of 56 loaded boats, holding 1,523,000 bushels of coal.

It would require a train miles long of the largest cars to haul the burden the Sprague was taking down the river; which is sufficient to swamp any ocean vessel afloat.

Aged Lady Dies.

Water Will Be Higher.

W. D. Connor, of Memphis, a Government Engineer, speaking of the levee near New Madrid, says: "The closing of the Reelfoot District, which is now accomplished, is going to raise your high water at New Madrid nearly three feet, and therefore your former high water marks for a given stage at Cairo will no longer be accurate. The enormous flow that used to go through the Reelfoot basin will now be confined to the Mississippi and will all go by New Madrid."

When all levees are connected on the Mississippi side, Hickman will doubtless find corresponding increase in the flood stage.

Rhyme of the "Grip."

Backward, turn backward, think in your mind!
Give me the cure that I breathe through last night!
Bring back the smaller that two days ago
Knew not the torment of continual pain!
Wipe from my nostrils the moisture of sweat.
The wooden splint on my poor weak limb that my red nose as yet often behold!
With talismans, medicines, it is useless.
Backward, turn backward, think in your mind!
I am so tired from my head to my feet,
Tired out with moaning and sighing and crying,
Wearied from hand to foot, constantly aching.
I have grown weak of mind and heart,
Of sleeping my brain and heart
Wry my head back in a big office
And now I sit, motionless, I have nothing left.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain, every where, in 20 minutes. Besides they are thoroughly safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Sold by all Dealers.

One of our farmer friends tells us that there is considerable cotton in the fields to be picked yet. Golly we raise some cotton around Hickman. Can't get all the crop out in time to put in another.

John Finch, the young man arrested last week charged with the robbery of the postoffice at Obion, Tenn., a few weeks since, was released last Friday, there being not enough evidence to convict. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail of the robber and they followed the trail to young Finch.

Four More Pages Added.

Beginning this week, the Courier adds four more pages to the paper. Instead of being 6 or 8 pages, it will be a 10 or 12 page edition, thus adding 24 more columns of reading matter each week.

The size of the Courier has not been increased because it was smaller than the average country newspaper, nor because any one has complained of its size, but because we want the Courier to keep pace with the growth of Hickman, a paper that you can call your "home paper" with pride and because its growing popularity and increased patronage justifies us in putting our heart in the business of making a good local paper, and giving our readers more than they expect if possible.

It is true that many papers in the state are raising their subscription rates from $1.00 to $1.50 and along with it are cutting down the number of pages—considering the great advance in the price of paper and allied materials, we do not blame them, but in the face of all this, the Courier will increase its size and leave the rate where it was before the day of Big Sticks and Rooseveltian Trusts. You will read more but pay no more. We know you will appreciate it, and you know that we appreciate your patronage most heartily. Our subscribers are not only the "most handsome folks" on earth but the best. They are a class of folks who never send the sugar, and we are sometimes persuaded that our subscription book could be well used as an index to that Great Book which is being compiled beyond the river.

Clarinda Newton Dead.

Mrs. Clarinda Newton, who has been reading near Ruthville for a number of years, died last Friday at the age of 77 years. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Mollie Ladd, one son, Frank Newton, who reside near the place of their mother's death. The good lady had been a member of the Methodist church since childhood, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

Don't Complain.

If your chest pains and you are unable to sleep because of a cough, try a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and you won't have any more. Get a little now and that cough will not last long. A cure for all pulmonary diseases. Mrs. J. P. Davidson, Texas, writes: "I don't say enough for Ballard's Horehound Syrup. The relief it has given me is all that is necessary for me to say."

Sold by C. W. Galt's Drug Store, Inc., and Hahn & Kilian.

Regular Trading Day.

Saturday, March 7th, is regular swapping day in Hickman. Judging from the way this line of business is picking up in this burg, Saturday next ought to be a hummer.

If you have anything to trade or sell, bring it in and get action. Free admission to the ring, plenty of ice water and change for large bills furnished on small commission.

Come Saturday.

Doesn't Excuse Them.

Several fellows have intimated that we got on their corns last week when we got after the men who stood around and watched a few men fight the Henderson building fire. That's exactly what we aimed to do. One man said, "I have helped to fight a number of fires here and then men who owned the property never even thanked me for my services or the clothes I ruined." We feel sorry for the man who has so little gratitude in his pesky hide that he will not take the trouble to thank a man for volunteering his services—we have had the same experience—but that doesn't excuse us from doing our duty. Of course a man does not always know who helped him during such a misfortune, as more or less excitement always prevails; but most of them know that there is a little business called a "Card of Thanks" which can be inserted in a local paper as a medium of good faith and appreciation toward those they may not see or do not know. In fact, we are no more in sympathy with a man who has no sense of appreciation than we are with the little sem-feminine gentleman who is void of any sense of masculine duty—and who generally adds to his littleness by criticizing those who do try to do something during an emergency. We have no apologies to offer in this matter. When we put on our war paint we always have a good supply of unused grape and canister in reserve.

Another term for optimism—Porter Shumate.

Raided Negro Quarters.

Things were right lively, Friday, when Sheriff Seat and Marshals Dillon and Ballard raided the negro quarters south of the wagon factory, in search of one Tom Bragg, a shine who misappropriated about $50 which belonged to Charlie Smith, the shingle man. Mr. Smith was on the sick list and gave the negro a check to cash for him, but the negro failed to show up after ample time had been given him to do so. Sheriff Seat was asked to look him up, and he was caught after a few shots were fired at him, but had no money in his possession. Investigation proved that Bragg had been rolling the bones and luck was against him. The other negroes scattered so promiscuously while Bragg was being caught that the officers became suspicious of something else going on, and the whole bunch was taken into custody.

Maude Lynch was fined $50 and given ten days in jail for carrying concealed weapons. Others were given minimum penalties for gaming, etc. Bragg was lodged in the county jail to await the action of the circuit court. Warrants were sworn out for the arrest of about twenty-five other negroes who were turned in by the Bragg negro, and are charged with gaming, boot-legging and other things, and the negroes will be brought to justice as fast as caught.

Good crowd out to see the diver working on the sunken tug "Molo," Sunday—and a mighty slim bunch at church.

THE F. S. of E. COLUM

BY JAS. H. HARRIS

Owing to the rain, the committee and many of the men failed to reach Hickman. We learn that the meeting was postponed and a few of the members met and held a very interesting meeting, but as we received no minutes we cannot tell them.

The committee in possession of the supply and was unable to make diligent search for the tablets.

The committee on part of the report, therefore it was read with instructions to all members to bushels to the demand and the next Saturday.

There was also a request for members who are looking for the crop to be present, and if necessary we desire to demolish your action shall take in regard to the present.

There were several important communications from hand, and were acted upon but as the meeting did not reach Hickman, they have to be acted upon at the next meeting, March 7th, at the School House. Let all members on hand promptly at 7 o'clock on next Saturday.

There are some mud holes on the streets of West Hickman and in the roads just west of Hickman so that traffic is almost impossible. Wouldn't it be a good suggestion for the town of Hickman to see if these are repaired in some way?

We have a very interesting letter from the Brownsville neighborhood this week. We would like to have correspondents in every school district in the county.

A. K. Debow is expected to arrive home this week from a month's visit at Lynchburg, Va., and other eastern cities.

J. M. Sheppard, a prominent farmer residing in the Mt. Zion neighborhood, died at his home Sunday, death resulting from pneumonia. Deceased was 31 years of age, and leaves a wife and children. He was also a brother of Mrs. I. D. Price, of this city. Burial at Beulah cemetery, Monday. Mr. Sheppard was a faithful member of the Baptist church, and a most level man.

OAKWOOD STOCK FARM,
R. A. TYLER, Prop.

Route Two.

Farmers' Union met at Graves School House with the best attendance in months. Our secretary being absent C. D. Roe filled his place. Some important business was transacted. Our committee on warehouse will meet with Montgomery Lodge Friday night. There were six new members added at this meeting, and judging from the laughter and applause all enjoyed themselves very much. Stop, brother farmers, and think! What are you going to do with your 1908 crop, sign a one-sided contract again? Why not price your produce as well as the merchants price his goods?

There will be a debate, music recitations and a talking machine at Graves School House, Wednesday night March 11th, for which a small fee will be asked for the purpose of putting good lights in the house. Come, and enjoy yourselves. Doc. (C. D. Roe) says a good laugh is better than a dose of medicine.

We will have our fruit supper next Monday night, and it will be a good one, if the committee count for anything, as Jess Gidewell, James Barnett, C. D. Roe and C. S. Patterson are on it. Be sure and come.

State Line.

Thos. C. Berry, of Memphis, was here Sunday.

J. J. C. Roper is able to be out again after a short illness.

G. B. Threlkeld, Jr. was in Union City on business Monday.

J. P. Maddox spent a few days in Memphis last week, returning Sunday.

Miss V. B. Clark has been seriously ill with nervous prostration, but we are glad to state, she is much improved.

Elder Weeks, of Henderson, preached two sermons at Mt. Hermon Sunday. Bro. Weeks has proved himself a very able minister.

Miss Mattie Seay closes a very successful school at Sylvan Shade this week. She will open a subscription school at the same place a week hence.

Claude Hall made sale of a mule on "first Monday." He purchased another animal but decided he was worsted and has called on the other man for his script.

Gordon Rice has accepted a position with the Southern Wood Supply Company at Hickman. We congratulate the company on being able to secure a young man of his qualifications.

Rev. Bruner filled his regular appointment at Poplar Grove last Sunday. We were glad to have him and his charming young bride with us. Bro. Bruner thinks it best to hold only day services—at least until the condition of the roads improve.

The City Council has made another good move. They amended stock ordinance Monday night, and hereafter cows will not be permitted to run at large on the streets of Hickman. Full proceedings next week.

Miss Oral Margaret Hackett, daughter of J. W. Hackett, at Fulton, and E. J. Nowlin, of Martin, Tenn., were married at the home of the bride last Wednesday evening.

The Veneer Mill closed down Friday at noon to repair one of their large engines. This is the first time in four years that the veneer has been closed down on account of break down.

Unofficial reports have reached us that the river will take another rise within the next four or five days and will reach 48 to 50 feet at Cairo. 45 feet is their flood stage. We are unable to verify this report, though it may be true.

Last Friday evening, Miss Dora Cavitt entertained a few friends in honor of Miss May Boggan, of East Prairie. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Bryant Cox.

With the dawn of Sunday morning came to the relatives and friends of Mrs. Bryant Cox—better known to the most of our residents as Miss Belle Fortune—the sad news of her death. She was in Nashville, at Hayden & Brown's Sanatorium, when the end came. Ill health for past two years had robbed life of its joys, its pleasures, and death was a welcome visitor to her. Strong hopes for her recovery had been entertained by those who knew and loved her, and this ending has been a sad blow, indeed, to them.

The remains were brought to Hickman Sunday and laid to rest in the City Cemetery, Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Waters at the home of Mrs. J. E. Fuqua, a sister of the deceased.

Rarely do we meet with one possessed of so many fine traits of character as this Christian woman. She was the very embodiment of all that is pure—good—and true. She was always in conversation, her purpose and desire being to ennoble and uplift. One felt the elevating influence of her presence. She was the promoter and organizer of the Literary Club of this city, and was president of the organization until ill health compelled her retirement from this office. Gifted with a voice of exceptional sweetness and perfect cultivation, she has charmed many hundreds of listeners, especially with her sacred selections of songs. Can we not hear those sweet strains of "Calvary" or "Rest for the Weary" as they fell from lips on the ears of an enraptured audience, and realize that the "sweet rest" of which she sang is now hers forever?

Many hearts have said farewell to her in sadness; and the floral tribute paid to her memory at the grave was one of the most gorgeous ever seen in this city.

Mrs. Cox is survived by her husband, two sisters—Mrs. J. E. Fuqua and Mrs. R. B. Nall—and a brother, T. P. Fortune, of Memphis, and the Courier joins their many friends in extending sympathy in this dark hour.

Candidate for Assessor.

This week Ben F. Wilson, who is well known over the entire county, has us place his name before the voters as a candidate for the office of assessor. Mr. Wilson has served in the capacity of Deputy Assessor for several years and is thoroughly familiar with the duties and details of the office. He is a conservative man, a good citizen and ardent supporter of Democratic principles. He proposes to make a clean, honorable race for the office, submitting his claims to the men who are to decide the question without any abuse toward any other man or men whom he may oppose. Wilson will make a good official if elected.

W. A. Greer, of Moscow, has been appointed deputy sheriff by Sheriff Evans, which will doubtless prove a very happy selection as Mr. Greer is a capable and energetic man and entirely trustworthy.—Clinton Gazette.

Deacon Snow Writes.

Luzelle, Ky.

Editors Courier:

Gosh, Old Hemlock—your scribe was too busy last week to send in our annual weekly letter. Getting ready for the first issue of the Luzelle Weekly Squirrel has taken all of our time and most of our genius. In addition to this, Roo Gualter and me worked two nights last week trying to perfect our compound whiskey which is to taste as good coming up as it did going down. So I beg the indulgence of your generosity to the extent of pardoning my absence last week. J. B. Spikman and K. H. Lowery told me they were going to take the Courier if I didn't stop writing for it. But that won't take any of the hair off of a frog.

A friend of mine at Moscow had two ribs broken, Tuesday, by the embrace of an old friend. I will furnish the name of the friend to any nice old maid who feels sortier lonely.

I have received my closed carriage which I had shipped via Hickman. I bought it to use during the campaign. Charlie Roe thinks it's a dandy. Under the seat is a tank in which I will always have a good lot of political persuasion. In fact, I won't undertake a great deal on the strength of the brands sold in Hickman or Fulton. Every time you give a friend a nip of that stuff, you lose his vote. Other candidate should govern themselves accordingly. Subscribers to the Weekly Squirrel will be shown the hole in the dough-nut or cake which will entitle them to a two-minute ride in my private carriage.

The handles on the coffin of Brack Watts, who talked about a mule behind his back, cost $3.10. Montgomery made him a special rate. I am trying to raise my family so that they will not go behind a mule until they have made friends with him—then to put their trust in God and go way 'round.

The fun of seeing a man with a whiskers and a mustache eating corn off the cob will come again in spite of the rain. Use Snow's Compound Electric Bald Paste. Eradicator and let's have a good time.

A farmer living between Hickman and Luzelle has posted this sign on a tree near the road: "Danger, if any man or woman lets his or her cow stray into this here corn field, his or her tale shall be cut off, as the case may be."

Bbb Isler will spend Sunday in Luzelle with his uncle, if it doesn't rain.

I am sorry now that I advised John Bryant to purchase a safety razor. First swipe he made he cut off a great hunk of jole. Some times I think I would get my coat-tails wet crossing the Sahara desert. Jimmie, Jake Wright and myself struck a knot the other day. We would like to know who knits those cute little covers for the weiner-wurst?

In looking over the county statistics, I see that Hickman has 82 more men than woman; Luzelle has 16 more women than men. In the words of Greeley: "Young man go west."

For lack of time, we will close by singing:

(th, where is the wind when it doesn't blow?
What's the next sheriff, in like to blow?
And where are the joles in last year's coat?
The hole in the dough-nut, if you please?
(th, where is the truck that had took mule
While leaving the scene of last Friday's rob, where are the whiskers on friend New-borer, they were exist in the furnace
And, where is the nose of the Hickmanite
So he will blow out of the train
Where is the tongue of the hague lad
Who kicked off the foot on the nail, to spit
And why is a lawman, the when and the
And who in the dickens first said, "shdoo!"

The universal expectation of married people is that their married lives will always be happy ones. Deluded dreamers! They imagine that they are different from other people, and that when they enter the portal of matrimony, love, peace and prosperity will ever be their attendants. Such ones had better by far consider themselves the same as others, but from iron resolutions that will keep them from the dangerous coasts upon which so many have been wrecked and ruined. Unhappy marriages depend upon many causes. Previous to marriage, many try to appear more intellectual, more amiable, or more accommodating than they really are. De-

A muddy stream, flowing into one clear and sparkling, for a time rolls along by itself. A little further down they unite, and the whole is impure. So youth, untouched by sin, may for a short time keep its purity in foul company, but a little water they mingle.
